2019 VINTAGE & HARVEST

The grapes harvested in mid-September have small berries with thick skins and a viscous, syrupy pulp to produce musts with high aromatic potential. The low juice yields required precision pressing.

The winery's new facilities - no augers, minimal use of pumps, systematic inerting of presses and vats - make it possible to preserve the aromatic potential of the grapes and the must. The hand-picked bunches are placed in 250 kg crates, which are transported to a cold room for a day or two to form homogeneous batches according to the potential of the parcels. These boxes are transferred to rail-driven wagons. The whole grapes are poured by gravity into a pneumatic press, with inerting as soon as they are filled - minimal oxidation and protection of the aromas of the grape skin.

WINEMAKING

The hand-picked grapes were placed in crates, kept whole or partially destemmed, then transferred to vat (patented Ganimède®) for pumping over and rack and return. Cold pre-fermentation maceration at 5°C for 8 to 10 days was followed by alcoholic fermentation and maceration lasting 3 to 4 weeks at 20°-25°C. The must cap was continually broken and soaked with juice thanks to gentle pumping over.

Rack and return was performed without pumps and guided by daily tastings to optimise extraction, taking into account the desired tannin-anthocyanin profile of each grape variety and the potential of the vintage.

WINE AGEING

The wines are then matured on fine lees with regular stirring, using scrapers at the bottom of the vat, in order to nourish the wines. These lees (disaggregated yeasts) release the precursors of aromas, which bring volume and fatness to the mouth.

Aged in oak barrels for over 18 months.

TASTING NOTES

Color: A beautiful pink color with hints of apricot

Aromas: On the nose, under the freshness of the floral bouquet, surprising aromas of evolution, spices, herbs, honeyed notes and the scent of old furniture are revealed.

Palate: The palate is suave, with aromas of old alcohol. A salinity that makes you salivate slightly and a finish with a good length.
